

Me, but Not Me

Description

So, in a vein attempt to not do work, I thought I would Google myself (itâ€™s a verb now, get use to it!)

Apparently, there are different versions of me all over the place.

Here are some of what these me-but-not meâ€™s have accomplished:

â€“ Marketing Manager in London

â€“ A Psychiatrist in North Carolina

â€“ A VP of Marketing in Boston

â€“ A Physician in North Carolina

â€“ A track star in New York

â€“ A road racer in the UK

â€“ A Miner in Saskatchewan

And coolest of all, there is a company named after me in Ireland. Honestly!

Apparently, they are æœprecision engineers,â€• and specialize in, of course, æœprecision engineering.â€•

When I go there, I GOTTA visit it and get a picture taken with my companyâ€™hehe.

And then there is me â€™ a trained Biologist/Zoologist going into journalism.

Hopefully, one day, Iâ€™ll make my many namesakes proud ðŸ™,
