

OVER 500 VISITORS!

Description

WOW, who ever would have thought? Over 500 views of my blog, that's amazing! I want to thank everyone who has been reading my blog from the beginning, as well as all you new people too!

Thank you very, very much for enjoying what I put out there ðŸ™,

As for me, I just re-submitted an assignment for re-marking. The mark was fine, but I'm a perfectionist â€ leave me alone.

Sounds good, right? Except that I should be studying for a test tomorrow, which I've tried to study for, but it is mind-numbingly boring. Granted, it is not as bad as Organic Chemistry (which was created by the dark lord himself to basically destroy my second year of undergrad), but it's still pretty bad!

Life still continue much as it has been, with little change. The work never stops, and there is sadly, no rest for the wicked, and we ALL fall under that category over here ðŸ™%o

I could spend the entire night studying for this test, and I would do insanely well. BUT, there are two things that prevent me from achieving that:

- 1) The ever increasing urge to NAP
- 2) TV SHOWS (I've drastically cut down on the amount of TV I watch, but there are just some that you know people will be talking aboutâ€ and it relaxes me. Don't judge me!

Time to studyâ€!.. I feel like the white-rabbit, always checking the clock as time slowly ticks by, never stopping, never yielding and always forward.
